The main point established was that the witness denied making the remark after the shooting that he had merely taken a hand in the matter as plain

James Martin and not as the sheriff of Luzerne county.

Samuel Price, a contractor and commission merchant of Hazleton, testified that he was Sheriff Martin's chief deputy during the shooting. He told about the shooting that the deputies expected shooting to keep cool and not get excited.

He also told that they were not to shoot

until they were ordered to do so.

He also testified that the strikers were standing in the line of the strikers and that he saw the strikers surround the sheriff and began to yell and shoot at the side of the head. He also testified that he saw the strikers

Legislative Committee on Labor

Holding Meeting at Lawrence.

Lawrence, Mass., Mar. 2.—The legislative committee on labor is visiting the manufacturing centers of the state in pursuance of an order introduced by Senator Flynn, to investigate the condition in wages in the cotton mills, coming to see in this city at 10 o'clock today. The meeting was held in city hall. Senator Flynn is chairman.

Gov. S. S. Sibley, treasurer of the Pacific cotton mills, was the first witness. He testified that the Pacific mills did not pay the lowest wages made by any of the mills. The southern mills have induced the prices of the lower wages and the longer hours of labor outlook.

The per cent of salary in the Pacific mills is one and three-fourths of the gross receipts last year. The gross receipts were $2,500,000. Mr. Sibley paid as to give out the list of salaries and he said that the Pacific mills are not as cheap as the other mills.

The Pacific mills have paid an average dividend of 10 per cent. In the last year, it had worked hard with the mill and had paid out $1,000,000.

He said that the Pacific mills would not be able to pay the wages of the cotton mills of Massachusetts and that the condition of the 58 hours law would improve the condition.

DESCRIPTIVE OF BANGOR.

Elaborate Book to be issued by the Board of Trade.

The Bangor Board of Trade, at its meeting Monday afternoon, took action which will result in the issuing within a few months, under the auspices of the Board of Trade, of an elaborate and profusely illustrated book descriptive of the city, its resources, attractions and business life of Bangor and vicinity.

The Bangor Board of Trade has, in the past, brought out several publications showing up the advantages of the city, but a considerable period of years has gone by since anything of an elaborate nature has been brought out. The Board of Trade has been thinking for some time, having considered the same at numerous sessions of the board of managers and at several meetings of the full board, and the final decision has been to bring out something much more elaborate and of a far more valuable and popular nature than anything of the kind previously issued in Bangor.

Mr. Henry G. Rowe, who will be associated with Secretary Blanding in the compiling and publishing of this work is a young man who has been in the city for some days past, and who during his brief stay here has very favorably impressed those with whom he has come in contact. Mr. Rowe is an Ohio boy, and, like many from that State, he attended Williams College the Alma Mater of the late President Garfield. Upon graduation he assumed the editorship of the Daily Transcript, a publication of North Adams, Mass., the town adjoining Bangor, the seat of Williams College, and he is a thorough newspaper and literary man, along which lines he has been trained. Mr. Rowe has been associated with the bringing out of three books descriptive of localities, two of them in Massachusetts and one in Ohio, and the one which he has just recently issued in North Adams has received the warmest commendations from the press and public of Massachusetts.

Secretary Blanding, who is to assist in the compilation of the volume, has had exceptional opportunities to be familiar with the business life of Bangor, in that upon his advent in the city, he became associated with daily journalism, being for four years, editor of the Commercial and for three years, editor of the Bangor Journal. As Secretary of the Board of Trade he has been associated with the compilation of several publications brought out under the auspices of the Board, and in addition to his regular newspaper writings has also contributed articles on Bangor's advantages to the New England Magazine, United States Investor, Manufacturers' Gazette, Maine and its Scenic Gems, and to the annual reports of the Maine Bureau of Industrial and Labor Statistics.

"Bangor and Vicinity Illustrated" will be free from advertising, and be profusely illustrated with half-tones cuts, the illustrations comprising the finest natural scenery in Bangor and vicinity, public buildings, churches, school houses, private dwellings, industrial and mercantile establishments, and prominent public and business men. The purpose of the book is to show up Bangor adequately and fully and truthfully. Something of its history will be given, its churches and religious life dealt with, its schools and educational facilities told of, its city government and public works considered, its industrial and general advantages elaborated upon—in short, all that the people of Bangor would like to have known of their fair city wherever the many copies of this book may find their way.

The leading business concerns of the city will also find places in the book with something of their history and enterprising conductors, all handsomely illustrated.

The book, it is intended, will do more to advertise Bangor and draw attention to its many advantages and future possibilities as a business and residence place than any work heretofore undertaken. The Board of Trade assures its circulation among other Boards of Trade, Chambers of Commerce, Public Libraries and business associations throughout New England and beyond. The book will be furnished to the people of Bangor at a merely nominal figure so that it may be in every home in the city as well as be generously sent to friends and business acquaintances elsewhere. Although to be published at large expense, the aim is to make the book popular in every sense. It will be a work of art but not at art price.

The Board of Trade and publishers of "Bangor and Vicinity Illustrated" hope for the generous support of the business public in the part it will be asked to take in this work to advance the interests of Bangor. The managers of the Board of Trade and the publishers, on their part, promise the handsomest and most popular illustrated work of the kind ever gotten out by any Maine city, believing that the best is none too good for Bangor.

Nothing of the sort. "Say, Horace," said one of them, "do you know this tramp around the streets with an advertisement banner is a regular dog's life?" "No, it ain't, either." "You don't mean to say you like it?" "No, General, I don't like it, but what I say is that it ain't no dog's life." "It ain't?" "No, sir, it ain't. I led a dog's life one winter, and I know what it is." "What's it like, anyway?" "Well, a dog's life is where a nice kind lady brings you a plate of victrola, three times a day, and the rest of the time you do lay up alongside of a warm stove and dream. That's what a dog has to do, General. That's a dog's life for you, and it comes mighty near ruinin' me. Don't never holler about a dog's life."—Chicago Record.

CANTORIA. Knightly lancers were from 18 to 20 feet long, the heads 4 to 6 inches broad and from 18 to 20 inches long.

FIRE AT WINTERPORT.

Blaze in Carpenter Shop of James Freeman on Water Street.

Fire was discovered in the carpenter shop of James Freeman on Water street about 10:30 A. M. today. The contents were dry lumber, shavings, etc., all of combustible nature, they were soon in flames. Defender hose was promptly on hand had a stream on in a few minutes, followed by Kelly hose, also another hose.

In a short time the fire was out, leaving the building standing, in fact the fire was not allowed outside at all. Mr. Freeman's loss must be quite a little as he had quite a stock of lumber and had a fine lot of tools. But for timely aid this and probably one or two other buildings would have burned. He had no insurance.

The roads are in better condition now and more people are in town.

Work at the Hayward Pierce works in Frankfort is being laid out for a busy season.

Mount Wallis Works are also to employ large crews.

M. A. Bert Pierce has been confined to his house with a cold but is improving.

Dr. Taylor Thayer, of Winterport, was taken ill on Tuesday, and is still unconscious. He is well along in years.

Tomorrow meeting will be held on Monday next.

Mr. Nathan Downs had an ill turn recently.

Large sales of grain and feed to the dealers to keep in a supply.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Ole Olson."

At the Opera House last night the Swedish comedy "Ole Olson," which has been here in seasons past, was again given before a fair sized audience. Ed. P. Cogley had the little role and made the most of the amusing opportunities which it offers. Several specialties were presented with good effect.

Rumors at Grindstone.

After the train from Houston arrived at Grindstone Wednesday afternoon James St. John, from Bangor, alighted and said he could whip any man in Are a took county. He was intoxicated and began to bluster to the half a dozen people at the depot including Station Master Rowe. Soon he had the station platform to himself and he ran after two men who had taken refuge within the building. They closed the door upon him and St. John picked up a coping shackle and began breaking the windows and doors.

He climbed into the station through the shattered window and then threw the shackle about.

In the meantime he had met some of the men who went to the rescue of Station Agent Rowe, and the railroad property and assaulted two of them. Finally he sat down with the coupling shackle between his knees. The six men, led by Station Agent Rowe, seized him, threw him to the platform and bound his hands and feet with a rope. They placed him in a box car and locked the door.

Afterwards they removed St. John to the station. Station Agent Rowe telegraphed Deputy Sheriff Gould, of Oldtown, to come at once and he arrived at 1:30 Wednesday morning. St. John was taken to Oldtown by Deputy Sheriff Gould and was tried before Judge Whiting, being bound over to the criminal court in Bangor.

SHOT ON TOP.

But Harry's Operations Are Being Regarded as a Failure.

The Union Ice Company, started their elevator for the first time Wednesday afternoon. The ice in their stored varies from 10 to 14 inches in thickness, and although the water under has softened it to a depth of four to five inches, a frosty night or two is all that is required to make the crop fit for housing. The Union has had hard luck, having expended over $2,000 in planing, etc., without getting a block of ice harvested.

The Driggs Company are clearing their field and will begin cutting today if the conditions are favorable.

HOMEOPATHY.

Unconfronted Bishop Wilmer's Application of It to His Work.

This is a story an Alabama man tells me of Bishop Wilmer, and I hope you won't think it is a fiction. It happened soon after the war. Bishop Wilmer had gone to a northern city to ask aid for a Confederate orphan's home he was interested in. He hadn't been north for several years, and his old friends gave him a hearty welcome. There was a dinner in his honor, and after dinner the bishop was begged to tell a story or two. The bishop said he hadn't a story.

"But," he added, "I've got a confounding story. Why are you so interested in homeopathy?"

The guests—they were all Union men, by the way—suggested many answers. The southerners were like Lazarus because they were poor, because they ate of the crumbs from the rich man's table; because because of everything anybody could guess.

"No," said the bishop, "you're all wrong. We're like Lazarus because," and he smiled blandly, "because we've been licked by dogs."

A roar of laughter went round at that, for the bishop's utter earnestness was always one of his charms. Everybody laughed but one mottled faced man, who became very indignant.

"Well," he asserted, "if you think we're dogs, why don't you show us you come up here to beg for our money—for the money of dogs?"

The bishop chuckled. "My mottled friend," said he, "the hair of the dog is good for the bite. That's why I've come."—Washington Post.

SALE OF SEATS

For the Williams and Clary Concert Today.

The sale of seats for the Williams and Clary concert will open at the music store of M. J. Andrews this morning and those desiring seats for the first night would do well to get around early, as the supply is likely to be rapidly exhausted by the demand, such is the interest in the great concert. Among Mr. Williams' selections will be the most popular of all songs, "The Holy City."

"Sound an Alarm," by Handel, "The Star of Bethlehem," Adams, "Lead Me Your Aid," Gounod.

Clary will sing among others, "The Lost Chord," "O Mio Fernando," by Donizetti; "O Rest in the Lord," from the Eliza; "Hosanna," by Granier; "He Was Despised" and "He Shall Feed His Flock," from the Messiah; "Noble Signor," by Meyerbeer. Clary and Williams will sing two duets. The great love duet from "Simpson and Dallah" will be given one night, and Barcarolle (Chansonette), the other. Such an attraction as these great vocalists that City Hall will probably be crowded on the evenings of March 10th and 11th.

A PECULIAR FACT.

Thousands of People Have Dyspepsia in its Worst Form and Do Not Know It.

A weak stomach is the cause of about nine-tenths of all diseases, yet in most cases the wrong thing is treated and the trouble overlooked.

This is because a weak digestion produces symptoms resembling nearly every disease because it weakens and disturbs the action of every nerve and organ in the body; poor digestion causes heart trouble, kidney trouble, lung weakness and especially nervous break down or nervous prostration, the nerves cannot stand the wear and tear unless generously fed by well digested, wholesome food.

Keep the digestion good and no one need fear the approach of disease.

Mrs. H. M. Lee of Rochester, N. Y., writes: "For the sake of suffering humanity I want to say that from a child I had a very weak stomach, threw up my food very often after eating and after a few years nervous dyspepsia resulted and for more than twenty years I have suffered miserably."

I tried many physicians and advertised remedies with only temporary relief for nervous dyspepsia and not until I commenced taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets last September, six months ago, have I been free from suffering caused by the condition of my nerves and stomach; in short I am cured of nervous dyspepsia.

I have recommended Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to many of my friends and now I want in a public way to say they are the safest, pleasantest and I believe the best cure for stomach and nerve troubles.

I write my honest opinion and I will gladly answer any letter of inquiry at any time and feel that I am in my small way, helping on a good cause.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is not a patent medicine, but they contain only the fruit salts, digestive acids and pepsin necessary to help the weak stomach to promptly and thoroughly digest food.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 25 cents for full sized package and anyone suffering from nervous dyspepsia, sour stomach, heartburn, acid, flatulency, belching, etc., will find them not only a quick relief but a permanent cure.

Sent to Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., for little book describing cause and cure of stomach troubles giving symptoms and treatment of the various forms of indigestion.

IMPORTANT RESCRIPT

In the Case of Fred Atwood vs. the Bangor, Orono and Oldtown Electric Railway Company.

On Wednesday, Clerk of Courts Chas. F. Sweet received from the Law Court of the State a rescript of the Bangor, Orono and Oldtown Electric Railway Co. The case was first tried in 1897. Fred Atwood, of Brewer, a truckman, was standing in the highway between Bangor and Orono with his team, talking with a friend. A car of the defendant corporation came along and ran into Atwood's team, he being close to the track, and killed his horse.

He sued the company in August, 1896. At the next term of the Supreme Court, in January of 1897, the case was tried and sent to the Law Court. It was argued there at the June term following.

Charles J. Hutchings, Esq., and P. H. Gilpin, Esq., were for the plaintiff, and Appleton & Chaplin for the defendant corporation. The court's opinion overruling the motion of defendant's counsel, is given in the rescript as follows:

"Fred Atwood vs. The Bangor, Orono and Oldtown Electric Railway Company. Bangor, Orono and Oldtown Electric Railway Co. vs. Fred Atwood." The case was first tried in 1897. Fred Atwood, of Brewer, a truckman, was standing in the highway between Bangor and Orono with his team, talking with a friend. A car of the defendant corporation came along and ran into Atwood's team, he being close to the track, and killed his horse.

He sued the company in August, 1896. At the next term of the Supreme Court, in January of 1897, the case was tried and sent to the Law Court. It was argued there at the June term following.
